

food safety, and biosecurity at Kansas State. K-State performs over $120 million in food, health, nutrition, and biodefense research annually, possesses demonstrated capabilities